Art. 3 – How to register for the public jury

You may register for one or more juries.

The GPFF Gold Junior Jury and the GPFF Junior Jury are reserved for children and young people aged 6 to 14.

For the CortoNatura and GPFF Online sections there is no division of jurors by age.

Registrations may be completed in the following ways:

● ONLINE REGISTRATION

By accessing the “Register for the public jury” section on www.gpff.it and completing the registration form.

- REGISTRATION AT NATURAL AND CULTURAL SITES MANAGED BY FONDATION GRAND PARADIS

By visiting the natural and cultural sites managed by Fondation Grand Paradis to complete the registration form. To check opening hours, please consult the Fondation Grand Paradis website in the “Opening hours” section “selection hours”

Art. 4 – Viewing and voting procedure

Members of the GPFF GOLD, GPFF and CortoNatura juries must watch the films entered in the Feature Films and/or CortoNatura sections in the screening rooms in Cogne, Introd and Rhêmes-Notre-Dame, according to the programme available at www.gpff.it.

Jurors must book their own seat in the screening room on www.gpff.it.

Films competing in the GPFF Online section will be available on the dedicated web platform from 2 to 7 August. Jurors registered for the GPFF Online section will receive, after registering, the link to the viewing platform by email and will be able to access the voting form at the end of the film.

The platform for viewing films in competition will not allow content downloads and will provide reserved and protected access for registered users only. Once logged in with their personal credentials, the user may choose the film to watch; it will remain available for the following 30 hours and in any case no later than 11:59 pm on 7 August.

Access credentials to the reserved online area are personal and may be used by the individual jury member solely for the purpose of viewing the films in competition and voting for the films in competition.

Any use other than the sole online viewing of the contents for the purposes described above is strictly prohibited.

Jurors are asked to express their preference by assigning a score (whole number) from 1 to 10 to the films in competition.

The GPFF GOLD Jury must vote for all 10 films in the International Competition – Feature Films by assigning a whole-number score from 1 to 10 to each film, without being able to assign the same score to more than one film.

The CortoNatura Jury must vote for all films in the International Competition – CortoNatura by assigning a whole-number score to each film, without being able to assign the same score to more than one film. The voting scale will correspond to the number of short films in competition: for example, if 8 films are in competition, the scale will run from 1 to 8.

Voting will be possible by completing online or paper ballots:

- ONLINE VOTING

Jurors may vote for the films in competition by accessing www.gpff.it.

- PAPER VOTING

Jurors will find the dedicated voting form available in the screening room during the screenings. Jurors must vote for the films in competition ONLY ONCE. A juror may therefore not assign more than one vote to the same film.

Voting forms for the International Feature Films Competition must be completed and submitted by 12:00 noon on 1 August, at the end of the feature film screenings.

Voting forms for the International CortoNatura Competition must be completed by the end of the short film screenings, as all short films will be screened in the same afternoon.

Voting forms for GPFF Online must be completed and submitted by 11:59 pm on 7 August, the platform closing time.
